We are investigating the effects of Cannabidiol (CBD), one of the non-intoxicating ingredients of cannabis, on a host of cognitive functions. We are seeking people who have experienced some form of trauma during either childhood or adolescence. All participant information will be kept completely confidential. All participants should not be currently receiving treatment for a mental illness or be using illicit drugs. You will be paid at least £100 for participating, and a free lunch is...
