

Call For Participants

An online game to study social behaviours

40 min(s) to complete

Prize draw of £200

University of Cambridge

A rather simple and very fun multiplayer game will ask you to share some virtual money between you and other (completely anonymous) participants and fill in a couple of questionnaires. It will take around 30 minutes to complete.

Because the study is done in groups, you will need to sign up during a specific slot using the Doodle poll and then the information will be sent to you via email.
