Decision-making and Time Estimation

45 min(s) to complete

£8, plus up to £3 extra based on the results of the gambling-like task

Experiment

Senate House University of London, Malet St, London WC1E 7HU, United Kingdom

School of Advanced Study University of London

This experiment will investigate decision making (using a gambling-like task) and time estimation. Depending on the outcome of the gamble, you can win up to £3 extra. We will also record your heartbeat using ECG electrodes placed on your upper chest and lower back, so please avoid wearing one-piece items of clothing on the day of the experiment. This is a standard non-invasive procedure which is painless and completely safe.
