University of Manchester

This research study explores decision-making about having children for those facing financial, living and personal obstacles. I am interested in speaking to people between the ages of 18-45 living in the North East of England who have not had children, or as many children as they may have wanted, as a direct result of concerns about income, living arrangements, childcare costs and other factors. Taking part involves a 60 minute phone or online interview with Sarah.
